What's your point?

Seriously, that's the most important question.